Professor Rajesh Chandra,
Vice-Chancellor and President,
The University of the South Pacific
The University of the South Pacific (USP) is the premier provider of tertiary education in the Pacific region. Established in 1968, it is an international centre of excellence for teaching, research, consulting and training on all aspects of Pacific culture, environment and human resource development needs. USP’s academic programmes are recognised worldwide, attracting a high calibre of students and staff from the Pacific region and internationally.

USP has 12 member countries: Cook Islands, Fiji, Kiribati, Marshall Islands, Nauru, Niue, Samoa, Solomon Islands, Tokelau, Tonga, Tuvalu and Vanuatu.

The University is a large and complex community made up of approximately 20,000 students and more than 1,500 academic and administrative staff from throughout the Pacific region and internationally. As a new student, it is important for you to know who’s who at the University and how the place operates, so you know exactly where to go and who to see for information, direction and support.

Senior managers are supported by large teams of experienced academic and administrative staff, so it is always a good idea to begin any enquiries you have with staff within your own school or faculty, or talk to staff at Student Administrative Services.

As a publicly funded organisation, USP is governed by its own Council, which includes representatives of the University’s member country governments. Other members include academic staff, students, and community and business leaders. Senate is the academic authority of the University and is responsible for matters relating to teaching and research. Council and Senate are served by committees working in areas such as Finance, Staff Review, Academic Standards and Quality, and Flexible Learning. Other committees deal with special projects and the day-to-day administration of the University.

The ceremonial head of the University is the Chancellor. USP’s Chancellors are traditionally drawn from the leaders of the member countries and have included Prime Ministers, Presidents and Heads of State. The Pro-Chancellor is the Chair of Council, while the executive head of the University is the Vice-Chancellor. The Vice-Chancellor is assisted by two Deputy Vice-Chancellors and two Pro Vice-Chancellors.

For most of us a major turning point in our lives is leaving school and beginning our lives as an adult. If you are a school-leaver, you are entering a time of great change in your life, but even if you’re starting a university programme as an older student, studying at university means adjusting not only to a new way of learning, but a new way of living. Many students at The University of the South Pacific travel from countries throughout the Pacific region and the world. For these students in particular, there are many adjustments to make – a lively and diverse new campus environment to negotiate, new accommodation away from the familiar surroundings of home and many new people to meet – both fellow students and lecturers. Small things like knowing where to catch a bus, buying fresh food or going swimming will all be part of your new experience.

Fortunately, the University is well aware of the many adjustments that you, as a new student, will have to make when you first begin studying at USP. To assist you with your transition to university life, the campuses have special orientation programmes and sessions aimed at helping you adjust to being at university. In addition to the formal orientation programmes offered, you are strongly urged to talk with students who have already been at USP for a while and have had a chance to ‘learn the ropes’. While adjusting to university life can be exciting and fun, it can also be an unsettling period of confusion, particularly if you are feeling homesick or too shy to ask questions. Even new students who appear to be outgoing and confident usually experience feelings of uncertainty from time-to-time, so don’t feel alone. The best way to overcome these feelings is to share them with other students. Your old school friends and family may not be close by anymore, but university life offers you a wonderful opportunity to make a wide circle of new and interesting friends from all over the region and beyond. Many of these people will remain your friends and colleagues for the rest of your life.

The University’s campuses offer different opportunities to get to know other students. You can get involved in your students’ association or join a sporting club or other special interest group. If you live off-campus, you will need to make a special effort to become involved in the on-campus activities that happen outside the lecture theatre. Try to see the university as more than a place just to study. A lot of what you learn at university happens outside the classroom. Talk to other students about their learning experiences. Take time to form study groups with your fellow students so that you can make learning an informal, enjoyable and sociable experience. As you settle into university life, everything that at first seemed so foreign and strange will become more familiar. Adjusting to this change will help you to grow and develop as a person by exposing you to a bigger world full of different views and new insights. Don’t forget that USP belongs to not just one, but 12 different countries, so for the first time you will get the chance to find out about the cultures of neighbouring countries directly from the people who call them home. While it’s easy to stick to people you know, try to break out of your own cultural groups and get to know students from different cultural backgrounds.

This guide is designed to help you adjust to university life. In addition to providing general information about USP, it also contains sections on the specific services and facilities of each of the three major campuses. The USP website www.usp.ac.fj is also very helpful at providing you with information about all aspects of your time at USP.
STUDYING FACE-TO-FACE

If you have arrived at USP straight from school, one of the biggest surprises you will find is the academic freedom you have at the university. At school, your teachers probably closely supervised your attendance, your class work and your homework. At university, it is expected that you are here because you want to be here and that you are enthusiastic about learning. If you don’t turn up to lectures or tutorials, or if you fail to hand in assignments, nobody is going to punish you. The only person who will lose out will be you. Whether you are a private student or you have been awarded a scholarship to attend USP, the only person who is ultimately responsible for whether you succeed or fail at university is you.

This means you need to take a responsible approach to learning. Find out all you can about the academic rules and regulations, turn up to your lectures regularly, ensure you understand the structure and content of your academic programme, hand in your assignments on time and make sure you prepare well for examinations.

If you put in your best effort, you will not only be personally satisfied but you will also probably perform well academically.

University class sizes may also surprise you. At school, you may have sat in a room with 30 to 40 other students. Some lecture rooms at the university can seat more than 300 students! Lectures tend to be for large numbers of students, but they are supplemented by smaller tutorial groups that have a more personal atmosphere and give you the opportunity to ask your tutor or lecturer questions about issues raised in the lecture.

Another big difference about studying at university is the expectation that you will not just take notes from your lecturers but ask them lots of questions. In some Pacific cultures it is considered impolite to question people in authority positions, such as lecturers, but at university, it is important that you ask questions and challenge theories so that you learn to become an analytical and independent thinker.

Contrary to what you might believe, most lecturers enjoy teaching students who ask questions, challenge ideas and stimulate discussion. It gives them informal feedback about your academic progress and can also lead to new ideas being expressed, which is vital for an invigorating learning experience. There is not much satisfaction for a lecturer who teaches a silent class.

Finally, being at university means your classmates will vary in age, experience and cultural background. Not all students come to university straight from school. Many have already been out in the workforce for some time and decide to come to university to help advance their career or to change careers altogether. Some students may have spent most of their life caring for family and are looking to begin a new career through university study. Regardless of differences in age, ethnic group, citizenship or background, remember that you are all at university for the same reason—to learn.
STUDYING AT USP

STUDYING BY FLEXIBLE LEARNING
Approximately half of USP’s students choose to study by flexible learning (FL). The regional nature of USP and the very real challenges of having students scattered over vast geographical distances led the University to be a pioneer in distance education in the 1970s. Collectively, the University’s campuses are located across 33 million square kilometres of ocean covering four different time zones.

Today, the University delivers tertiary and community education to people in all its member countries, at three major campuses and 11 regional campuses. At the three major USP campuses – Alafua, Emalus and Laucala – there is a ‘one-stop-shop’ support centre for all USP students, regardless of their mode of study. There, students can get help regarding admission, enrolment, learning and teaching, assessment and general administrative support.

Over 400 credit courses are now offered through FL, representing all USP discipline areas. Students may study through any of the four modes, Face to Face, Print, Blended and/or Online. The USPNet satellite communications network and the Learning Management System – Moodle, are greatly enhancing the learning experience of students and the University is expanding the number of programmes and courses utilising online resources.

THE CENTRE FOR FLEXIBLE LEARNING
The Centre for Flexible Learning (CFL) comprises three sections: the Learning Design and Development (LDD) Team, the Multimedia Team (MMT) and the Learning Systems Team (LST). CFL is primarily involved with the design and delivery of flexible learning programmes and courses and is committed to supporting flexible learning.

MOODLE
Moodle is USP’s learning management system. When you enrol and log into your Moodle course, you will have access to lecture notes, presentations, assessments, discussion forums and many other resources and activities. You can contact your lecturer and fellow students. You can also submit your assignments through Moodle and access other learning resources.

To access Moodle, you need a computer connected to the internet. The computer you use must have a web browser such as Internet Explorer, Firefox or Netscape. Web browsers are software programmes that enable you to access the World Wide Web or the Internet. Moodle support is available for all online or online-supported courses.

A Student Guide for using Moodle is available online: http://elearn.usp.ac.fj/course/view.php?id=379

If you require assistance with Moodle, contact: moodlehelp@usp.ac.fj.
The following pages contain information on enrolment including how to register for courses, how to pay your fees, and important university regulations. It is vital that you read this information carefully before you register for courses. Also included is the contact information for academic and administrative sections that can assist you with any queries regarding your enrolment at USP.

We endeavour to provide you with as much information as possible, and it is important to note that as a student of USP you are required to follow all advice given by officers of the University and abide by all USP rules and regulations.

What Do the Course Codes Mean?

Course Codes
All USP courses are coded with a combination of letters and numbers, depending on the programme level. Preliminary, Foundation, and some Certificate courses have a three-letter/two-number code. In these codes, the third letter represents the programme level (e.g., P = Preliminary, Foundation and C = Certificate). For example, GEP02 is a Geography Preliminary course, GEF02 is a Geography Foundation course, and LSC11 is a Library Studies Certificate course.

Degree-level undergraduate courses and postgraduate courses have a two-letter/three-number code. For example, AG350 is a third year Degree course.

Course Code Letters
All USP courses are identified by a two- or three-letter prefix. These code letters represent either a focussed area of study such as BI for biology, ED for education, or SO for sociology. A list of all study area prefixes and the section of the University that teaches them appears below.

Course Code Numbers
Preliminary, Foundation, Certificate and Continuing Education course codes contain a two-digit number, while other course codes contain a three-digit number. The first of the three digits reflects the level of the course. First year courses of a degree programme have a ‘1’ and are referred to as 100-level courses, second year courses have a ‘2’ and are known as 200-level courses, and third year courses a ‘3’, called 300-level courses. Taught courses for a postgraduate certificate or diploma or a master’s degree are 400-level courses. At the postgraduate level, a supervised research project has a 600 code, a Master’s thesis has a 700 code and a PhD thesis an 800 code. For some disciplines the second digit of a course code denotes the sub-discipline within which a course is taught. The last digit of a course code simply uniquely identifies that course.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE SKILLS ASSESSMENT (ELSA)

WHAT IS THE COMPULSORY ELSA TEST?

The purpose of the English Language Skills Assessment (ELSA) Test is to find out if students have the English language skills needed for successful University study. The test must be taken by all students registering for degree-level courses, irrespective of whether you are doing a certificate, diploma or bachelor’s degree programme.

The ELSA Test assesses your vocabulary and grammar, your reading and writing, and until you have sat and passed the test you will not be allowed to register for 200 or 300 level courses. You should take the test as soon as possible so you can get your results before the semester begins. If you already have access to Student Online Services, you can check your ELSA results there about two weeks after you have sat the test. Otherwise, check the campus notice boards. Results are reported on a five-band scale, and an overall total of 3, 4 or 5 is a pass in the test. The meaning of each band is shown in the Table below.

If you score an overall total of 1 or 2 in the ELSA Test you must register for the course EL001: English Language Skills. You may not take EL001 in addition to a full course load. You are not permitted to undertake EL001 and UU114 concurrently.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT ELSA

1. Who should sit the ELSA Test?
The ELSA Test must be taken by all students admitted to degree-level courses, • students taking courses in all modes available • students admitted to the BED degree, even though they are exempted from some of the 1st year courses of the programme. • students who have been awarded credit transfers for some or all 100 level course in their programme of study.

2. Where do I sit the ELSA Test?
The ELSA Test is held at all USP campuses. Test dates are located in the Important Dates section at the beginning of this publication. Test times will be advertised through the local media and on the notice boards at your local USP campus.

3. When will I get my results from the ELSA Test?
Results will be posted at Student Online Services.

4. What if I do not sit the ELSA Test?
In keeping with the decision of the USP Senate, students will not be allowed to register for 200-level courses until they have passed either the ELSA Test or EL001.

5. What grade do I need to gain to pass the ELSA Test?
An overall score of 3, 4 or 5 is a pass in the ELSA Test.

6. What happens if I sit the ELSA Test but do not pass?
If you score 1 or 2 in the ELSA Test you will need to register for EL001 English Language Skills.

7. What is the course load for EL001 English Language Skills?
Students may not take EL001 in addition to a full course load. For example, during your first year, you may take a full load of four 100-level courses per semester. It follows therefore, that in the semester in which you are registered for EL001, you may take a maximum of three 100-level courses.

8. What if I also fail EL001 English Language Skills?
If you fail EL001 you will be given two options to satisfy USP’s English language requirement:
(a) to sit IELTS (academic module) in which you must achieve an overall Band 6 with a minimum of Band 6 for Writing; or
(b) to re-register for EL001, in which case you must pay the course fee again.

9. Interpretation of ELSA Bands
Results are recorded on a five-point scale: 1, 2, 3, 4 or 5. Students scoring 3, 4 or 5 are considered successful thus exempted from EL001, while students scoring a 1 or 2 need to enrol in EL001.

WHAT FEES WILL I NEED TO PAY?

The fees for studying at USP in any given semester depend on the programme and courses in which you enrol. USP uses a differential fees system to calculate its tuition fees. In other words, some courses will have higher tuition fees than others, depending on the course code. There are also a number of administrative fees that you need to include in your overall fees calculation.

Fee payments must be received at your USP campus by the fee payment deadline. Your registration will be cancelled if the full fee payment is not received by these dates. To reactivate your registration you must pay any outstanding fee plus the Late Payment Fee four weeks after fee payment deadline. If you fail to pay your tuition fees, you will be deregistered and unable to continue with your studies. Note that if you are deregistered you are still required to pay all outstanding fees for that semester before resuming your studies at USP.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT FEES

1. How do I find out the fees for a course?
   Refer to the 2016 Handbook and Calendar for a comprehensive list of fees for 2016.

   Fees information is also available on the USP website: www.usp.ac.fj as well as your tuition fees. The staff at your USP campus can assist you in calculating your total fees.

2. Do I need to pay my fees by a certain date?
   Yes. Fee payments must be received at your USP campus by the fee payment deadline (see p.2). After these dates your registration will be cancelled from your courses if your fees have not been paid in full. To revalidate your registration, you will have to pay all outstanding fees plus the Late Payment Fee. If you fail to pay your tuition and Late Payment Fee, you will be deregistered from all courses and will not be allowed to continue with your studies.

3. Do I pay a fee to change or withdraw from a course?
   There is no fee for withdrawing from a course in the first two weeks of semester.

4. Do I get a refund if I withdraw from a course?
   You are only eligible for a refund if you withdraw within the first two weeks of the semester. See the 2016 Principal Dates (see p.2) to find the deadlines for withdrawing.
HOW DO I PAY MY FEES?

Your USP campus will advise you, in your offer letter or invoice, on the best way to pay your fees.

Payment of tuition fees and any other charges can be made in one of the following ways:

CASH PAYMENTS

You may pay the full tuition fees to:
- the cashier at your USP campus; or,
- USP campus staff conducting face-to-face registration in your town or island.

Ensure that you:
- take with you an invoice that you have printed out from your Student Online Services (SOLS) account and show it to the cashier;
- provide your full name, student ID number and full details when you (or someone else, on your behalf) makes the payment; and
- receive an official USP receipt when you make any payment.

PAYMENT BY TELEGRAPHIC MONEY ORDER (TMO)

This is recommended as the safest and most convenient way for payment of fees by students who live far from campus. TMO payments are normally made at the Post Office or a recognised Postal agency. Care must be taken to check that:

- you have paid the full tuition fees for all your courses plus any other applicable charges;
- you have paid for any other cost for sending your fees through TMO;
- your full name and student ID number have been recorded on your receipt as sender identification, especially if you do not have an invoice from your USP campus; and
- you have indicated your USP campus to the Postal Agency or Post Office to ensure that they send the payment details to the correct campus.

Note that:
- You will be officially registered only once all your fees are received at your USP campus;
- Course materials will be dispatched to you as soon as the fees have been received;
- You must keep all your fee receipts or documents provided by the Post Office or Postal Agency; and
- It is your responsibility to follow up with your USP campus that your fees have been received, and to ensure that all outstanding amounts are settled before the fee payment deadline.

PAYMENT THROUGH FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

If you are seeking financial assistance at your local bank, Provident Fund or Education Assistance Scheme to pay your fees, please ensure that you:

- attach the invoice with your application to the bank, National Provident Fund, etc. when you apply for this assistance;
- indicate your USP campus to the financial institution, as this will ensure that your fees are paid to the correct campus;
- provide your USP campus with written evidence that you have applied for assistance; and
- follow up with the financial institution about the payment of your fees. It is your responsibility to ensure that all outstanding amounts are settled before the fee payment deadline.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

If you have been awarded a scholarship by a recognized sponsor, e.g. Government of a USP member country, AusAID, NZAID, Taiwan-ROC etc., you are required to present during registration your sponsorship letter confirming the conditions of your award.

Your sponsor letter may be submitted to:
- the appropriate staff at the fee payment step during your registration; or
- the Student Administrative Services office at the three major campuses.

PAYMENTS AT POST FIJI, WESTPAC OR ANZ BANKS

Laucala students, who wish to pay by cash, must pay fees at Post Fiji, Westpac or ANZ bank branches in Fiji. Once you have completed your online registration, you must:

- check that only your intended courses show a pre-enrolment approved (PR) status on your Student Online Services (SOLS) screen;
- drop all other courses that you do not wish to take;
- generate your invoice from SOLS (from week 3 of the Semester);
- check that your invoice lists all your approved courses and the correct fees and charges;
- present and pay the full amount showing on your invoice at your nearest Post Office, Westpac or ANZ banks; and
- retain all documents confirming your payment.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

As a student at USP there are two types of help or support that you are likely to need at some time during your studies: academic support and administrative support. If you need help in understanding topics in your course materials or lectures, help with an assignment, help with preparation for a test or examination, extra tutorial time – these all come under the heading of academic support.

Academic staff including course coordinators, lecturers and tutors can provide this type of support. Your tutor is normally the first point of contact for academic support, your lecturer the second, and your course coordinator the third. Sometimes, particularly approaching registration or if you are thinking about changing direction in your studies, you may need a different type of academic support – that of an academic adviser.

You are encouraged to seek advice at USP if you need help choosing a programme, or choosing and planning your sequence of courses. The names, email addresses and phone numbers of academic advisers for each school appear on the following pages.

At USP we committed to providing an inclusive and supportive environment for our students, to developing a sense of community and engagement, and to enabling students to maximise academic potential. CL FYE Buddy programme is an important strategy in achieving goals. CL FYE Buddy Programme makes an important contribution to achieving the best possible First Year Experience for all first year students.

The Campus Life First Year Experience (CL FYE) Office will endeavour that all 2016 first year students have access to CL FYE Buddy Programme irrespective to the Faculty of School they belong to. CL FYE Buddy Programme is a non-academic mentoring student support for first year students.

CL FYE Buddy Programme plays a highly-valued and valuable role in the life of USP students. They make an important contribution to the well-being of new USP students by:

* Familiarising the student with the campus facilities;
* Sharing their knowledge of where University Support Services, School and Faculty officers are and how they can be accessed;
* Providing information on University policies and procedures, or where/who to go to for advice and information;
* Demystifying academic procedures and other study matters (i.e how to submit assignments; how to borrow books);
* Sharing academic survival tips and knowledge about how to seek support;
* Engaging in social activities to get to know and meet other students;
* Sharing knowledge of available support structures, services and networks;
* Building the student’s self-confidence in their ability to negotiate a new and challenging environment.

Buddying/Mentoring is generally characterised by the model of a more senior or experienced person acting as a mentor to a new, more junior person, to inculcate them into the ways of the new culture to help them succeed.

Ideally, CL FYE Buddies build a relationship with their first year students over time, usually over the course of the semester. The Buddy programme is voluntary in that both buddy and first year students can opt out whenever they want to.

Who is a CL FYE Buddy?

A CL FYE Buddy:

* Must be a currently-enrolled USP student who has successfully completed at least one year of study;
* Have already managed to negotiate their University studies successfully;
* Is a student who is interested in assisting new students to successfully make the transition to university life;
* Is willing to share their own knowledge, expertise and experience with others to help them get the most out of their time at USP

How to sign-up for a buddy?

You can sign up with CL FYE Buddy Programme at any time during your 2016 Orientation week at USP. CL FYE Buddies will assist during the Orientation activities and will be distinguished by their T-Shirts. You can also sign up at any Information Booth or with your Orientation tour guides. There is a high chance that Buddies might be your Orientation Tour Guides as well. If you still are unable to sign up for a CL FYE Buddy, simply send an email to ronil.r.prasad@usp.ac.fj

ACCOMMODATION ON CAMPUS

Residence in the Halls is a privileged status which entails specific rights and obligations on the resident. The rights include accommodation suitable for study and rest. The obligations include the reasonable care of the premises, property and equipment in the Halls, behaviour which is conducive to an atmosphere of study and peace and respect for the rights of others.

Residential status may be withdrawn at any time for reasonable cause. Allocating accommodation at the Residential Halls is prioritised as follows:

1. undergraduate students in their 1st year of study.
2. returning or continuing regional students who applied by the deadline.
3. continuing Fiji students who lived in the Halls the previous semester and applied by the deadline.
4. returning or continuing regional students who lived in the Halls the previous semester and applied by the deadline.
5. continuing Fiji students who lived off campus the previous semester and applied by the deadline.
6. postgraduate students, if rooms are still available.

General information, accommodation application forms and applicable fees can be found on the Halls website: www.usp.ac.fj/halls

Students are expected to know and abide by the important regulations related to living and studying on campus. These are listed in the Student Conduct Regulations document found in the Information for Students website or www.usp.ac.fj/regulations.

For students living in the Halls, breaching any of the University regulations could result in your eviction from the Halls. If this happens, you will be responsible for finding your own off-campus accommodation. A few basic rules are summarised below. Keep in mind that they have been developed to help provide an environment that is safe, healthy, comfortable and conducive to learning for everyone living in the Halls.

1. Any damage, other than normal wear and tear, to the University premises and/or property will be your responsibility. This means you will have to pay the cost of repairs or replacement.
2. You are not permitted alcohol on campus. This means you cannot bring alcohol onto campus, have it in your possession or consume alcohol in any area other than those designated by the University. If you are found in the company of anyone breaching this regulation, you will also be penalised.
3. Yaqona (kava) drinking is not permitted anywhere in the Residential Halls.
4. Disruptive/disorderly behavior, including noise that interferes with the quiet, peaceful atmosphere of the Halls is not allowed. Threatening or violent behaviour is not tolerated.
5. There are special regulations relating to non-residential visitors to the Halls. You are expected to know these and adhere to them. In particular, men are not permitted to visit the women’s halls, including the married quarters (MQ) located within the residential Halls. If you are found in the women’s halls, you will be penalised.
6. Cooking is only allowed in designated areas of the Halls and the policy pertaining to this must be strictly adhered to. Cooking in rooms poses a serious fire risk and breaches fire regulations and any offender will be evicted.
Residential Officers (RO) and student Resident Assistants (RA) are available to help students settle into their new home away from home. If you are fortunate enough to secure accommodation and move in to the Halls, feel free to call upon their expertise and experience if you have any queries or issues. Many potentially serious problems can be avoided if you seek early advice.

OFF-CAMPUS ACCOMMODATION
USP has established its own off-campus accommodation website for students who are looking for a place to live in Suva for either a long or short period of time. The website is updated at the beginning of every semester, and can be located at: www.usp.ac.fj/campuslife/offcampus

BOOK CENTRE
The University Book Centre has an abundance of books for all ages and interests. Whether your tastes run to modern painters or ancient history, classical music or computer programming, crime fiction or Pacific poetry, spirituality or sports, there’s always something special for you at the Pacific’s finest book centre. Importantly, the Book Centre stocks prescribed textbooks for courses offered at USP.

The Book Centre endeavours to have textbooks available for as long as the courses are being taught. If you know what courses you will be taking and wish to obtain your books without having to endure the ‘rush’ period, please visit the Book Centre early and purchase all your requirements for the semester. The friendly staff are always there to help you. Price and availability of textbooks and course materials can be found on our website: www.uspbookshop.ac.fj

The Book Centre also stocks all the basic stationery needs for study, home, and office, including an excellent range of greeting cards, gift-wrap, diaries and gift items.

CAMPUS ENVIRONMENT
Taking pride in your campus requires that you take part in keeping it clean. There are plenty of rubbish bins around, which are regularly emptied so please do not litter, or write graffiti or damage trees, shrubs or flowers. Smoking is allowed only in designated areas, Students and others found smoking outside these areas are subject to spot fines of $50. All student and visitor vehicles must be parked in designated parking areas and not on the grass. With the exception of weekends and after 5pm on weekdays, vehicles must display parking permits if parked in designated staff parking areas.

THE USP COUNSELLING CENTRE
The Counselling Centre at Laucala Campus is located directly behind the Westpac Bank and provides friendly, professional, and confidential services to students and staff (also referred to as clients).

At some stage in life everybody can experience difficulty; seeking help can be a starting point to regain control and find direction toward achieving your life goals. The primary focus of the Counselling Centre is to provide short-term counselling to help students and staff members deal with personal and adjustment issues that may interfere with their ability to progress academically and/or professionally to their fullest potential. The types of issues students and staff members talk to Counsellors about include but are not limited to:

- Stress and Anxiety
- Relationships/ Marital problems
- Traumatic experience
- Facing difficult decisions
- Family concerns
- Personal crisis
- Substance abuse
- Academic program/study related problems
- General health and well-being

If you are experiencing any problems and are unsure about what to do, talk to one of the professional Counsellors at the Centre. It is always best to address issues early before they are seriously affecting your well-being such as interfering with your ability to concentrate, and/or impacting on your eating or sleeping pattern which can cause you to become physically and/or emotionally unwell. The Counsellors work closely with USP lecturers, medical officers and other professionals to ensure that you receive the best help that is locally available.

The Counselling Centre provides support and information to the USP University community in a number of ways and Counsellors will generally determine which of the services are applicable. For example:

- Individual counselling
- Liaison with on and off campus professional support services
- Consultancy and referrals
- Responding to critical incidents

Skype Counselling
For students and staff at regional campuses the Counselling team is available on Skype.

For appointments on Skype send a contact request to: uspcounsellingappointment.

If Skype services are not accessible, contact us for a REACT consultation via our website or the Centre’s Secretary.

Peer Education
Peer Educators play a crucial role in disseminating information on Sexual and Reproductive Health and Rights and the promotion of safe sex practices. The installation and replenishment of the Condom Dispensers located in strategic places at Laucala Campus is a sign that the Peer Education program is designed to assist students make informed choices about their sexual and reproductive health with particular emphasis on protection from HIV and other Sexually Transmitted Infections, and unplanned pregnancies.

The Counselling Centre has been coordinating the Peer Education program in Laucala since 1998 which last year 2015 was rolled out to seven (7) other campuses including Solomon Islands, Alafua, Emalus, Tonga, Kiribati, Lautoka and Savusavu.

Health Awareness
Recognizing the importance of holistic health, the Counselling Centre provides a variety of mental and physical health awareness sessions and training programs delivered face to face and online such as:

- Mental Health Awareness & Mental Health First Aid
- Drug & Alcohol Awareness
- Stress Management
- Holistic Health

CAMPUS LIFE ACTIVITIES
Campus Life - Activities outside the classroom offer a wealth of opportunity for personal growth and development that support and enhance students’ academic experience. From exciting volunteering opportunities in University events or in communities immediately outside the campus areas to making lifelong friendships with one another, students have contact with many staff and faculty in both formal and informal settings. Our programmes and services are designed to promote self-discovery, leadership development, healthy behaviour patterns and social responsibility as well as enjoyment. Activities include a Pacific Market Day, Clean Up Campaigns, Family Day, Talent Quest, Blood Drives, and many others.

PUBLIC TRANSPORT
Public transport is quite readily available in Suva. Between the downtown area and the campus, one-way bus fares are about 70 cents. Bus stops are located outside the pedestrian entrance and the main entrance to the campus on Laucala Bay Road. Buses and buses arrive every 15 minutes or so. Taxis are also available and cost between FJ$5.50 and FJ$7.50 from the campus to the city. Two taxi stands are located outside the campus on Laucala Bay Road.

STUDENT SAFETY ON CAMPUS
At USP we are fortunate to enjoy a relatively safe and secure environment because of our security force and other assets. However, due to the nature of an open university where thousands of people work and study and thousands of people live, we must be very mindful of safety and security issues on campus.

Personal and property safety on Campus is a joint responsibility involving you and us, USP Security. We request all students and staff to take responsibility for their property and report any suspicious behaviour. There are strict approved discipline measures in place to deal with misuse of property and thefts.

The Safety and Security Services Team is responsible for ensuring the safety of staff, students, visitors and members of the USP community, and the security of the premises and equipment of the University.

We need to play our part in maintaining a safe and secure environment that is conducive to learning. We ask that you follow these tips:

A) Secure your personal belongings wherever possible or carry them with you
B) Be mindful of what you may store in your lockers. Do not leave attractive items in locker. If you use USP lockers please ensure you use “combination lock” or quality locks. USP accepts no responsibility for items you store in lockers on campus.
C) Be aware of your surroundings: The single most important thing you can do to ensure your personal and property safety is to tune in to your environment. Report suspicious behaviour to USP Security or any staff member immediately.
D) You are required to carry your ID card at all times; failure to produce ID cards on demand may result in a fine of ($40.00). You should ensure that your car is parked properly and locked at all times. Avoid leaving any attractive items inside your vehicle, improper parking will result in your vehicle being clamped and a fine of $50.00 imposed.

Personal safety tips:
A) Avoid walking alone: if possible you should walk to and from classes, activities and the Halls with a friend or friends.
B) Know how to get assistance on Campus: Our Security Officers can be contacted by phone 24/7 on these numbers for emergencies: 3232211 or 9380035.
C) Trust your instincts: If are uncomfortable in any situation, pack up your stuff and leave - with a trusted friend.
D) Drink responsibly: Don’t accept a drink from someone you don’t know or trust. And, remember, people who are drunk are much more likely to be the victims of crime.

The Student Health Services Scheme does not cover dental treatment, the provision of spectacles, cosmetic treatment pregnancy tests and pre-existing medical condition except as required by the Medical Officers. However, some sponsors provide limited cover for dental and optical treatment. Please consult Campus Life for further information. Except in emergency situations, medical attention is provided for members at the Medical Centre on-campus and at the Colonial War Memorial Hospital. The University of the South Pacific is fully committed to providing an accessible and inclusive learning environment and welcomes all students with disabilities who have chosen to pursue tertiary studies at USP. In the 2013 USP Disability Inclusiveness Policy, the term “Disability” is very broad:

“Persons with disabilities include those who have a short or long-term physical, mental, intellectual or sensory impairment which in interaction with various barriers may hinder their full and effective participation in society on an equal basis with others”.

The policy is a comprehensive document that details the proactive support strategies and access arrangements that the University has put in place to enhance inclusiveness.

Whilst students and staff are not required or obliged to disclose a disability or health condition, it is strongly recommended that you disclose at your earliest so that reasonable accommodations can be made to support your studies.

The USP Disability Resource Centre works with other departments, sections and staff in the University to remove learning barriers for students with disabilities and provide appropriate information, services, assistive technologies and practical support.

In order to strengthen disability awareness and advocacy, we circulate a monthly e-Newsletter titled ‘Be Inclusive’ which features stories and updates on inclusive activities at USP. Additionally, you can also access ‘Disability Fast Facts’ on Moodle to learn more about disability and its related issues in the Pacific region and internationally.

We look forward to meeting you and providing support services that will enhance your University experience. Get in touch with us today using the contact details given below or come by our office for a chat with our friendly staff.

We wish you a successful and access-friendly tertiary experience for this new academic year!

b) USPSA was created through the same Charter that created the University, in the Court of BUCKINGHAM PALACE on the 4th OF FEBRUARY 1970, in the presence of The Queen’s Most Excellent Majesty In Council.
c) The Federalization took place in the 69th Council Meeting of the University of the South Pacific held in October, 2009.
d) A regional organization of students, one of only 2 in the world, where we have membership of students studying in 14 campuses of USP, EQUALS to the Number of Branches, in 12 Countries.

MOTTO: OF USPSA
“One Ocean, One People, One Voice, One Journey”
To enhance and protect the general welfare and the academic, social and cultural interests of all students engaging in study at the University of the South Pacific for lifelong success.

OBJECTIVES OF USPSA- AS PER THE CONSTITUTION
Article 4. The objects of the Association include, but are not limited to:

IS THERE A MEMBERSHIP FEE FOR THE ASSOCIATION?
Every student enrolled in any mode of studies at the USP is expected to pay a fee of $33.50 FJD or equivalent per semester.

WHY IT’S IMPORTANT TO BE PART OF USPSA?

ALAFUA CAMPUS
APIA, SAMOA

The University of the South Pacific Alafua Campus is the base for the School of Agriculture and Food Technology, and for hundreds of students taking a range of courses by distance and flexible learning (DFL). The original identity of Alafua Campus as the South Pacific Regional College of Tropical Agriculture is still visible today in its very green landscape and neighbouring farms.

ACCOMMODATION
On-campus accommodation is divided into separate quarters for men and women. A total of 74 rooms, 29 rooms for women and 45 rooms for men are available. Of the 74 rooms, 8 are double rooms. All rooms are located within the campus grounds and are a two minute walk from the classrooms. Students residing on-campus are provided with pillows, mattresses, sheets, and pillowcases in addition to other amenities in each room such as fans, study desk, rubbish bin and wardrobe. At least once a week, the laundry replaces your bed linen with a clean set. You have to bring your own towels. Wash tubs, clothes lines, irons and iron boards are also available so you can do your own personal laundry. In 2013, two married quarters units were built with each self contained unit offering 2 bedrooms, bathroom and kitchen and the units sharing a common room.

Campus cleaners are responsible for cleaning the shared bathrooms, toilets and common rooms, but you are responsible for keeping your own room clean and tidy. Each hostel has cleaning equipment such as dustpans, brooms, buckets and mops for you to use. CAMPUS LIFE AND STUDENT WELFARE SERVICES

Alafua Campus Security Services provides 24-hour/7-days a week security. The security team is responsible for the security of University property and equipment and the safety of its students and staff while on its premises. But it is important for all members of the USP community to play their part by ensuring that their personal items are secured, and that doors to their rooms are locked when the rooms are vacant. Every effort is made, through patrols around campus and spot-checking of vehicles, to minimise the occurrence of thefts and break-ins. When members of the University are asked by security officers to show their ID cards this may cause personal inconvenience, but please understand that this is for your own safety.

You need to be aware that neither alcohol nor kava are permitted on-campus at any time, except in the specific areas during specified times that must be approved by the Campus Director, and that if you breach this regulation penalties can be imposed on you ranging from fines to expulsion.

Alafua Campus has two fields, one for playing rugby and soccer, and the other (due to close proximity to the hostel quarters) only for touch rugby and outdoor volleyball. There is also a multi-purpose court for playing netball, basketball and tennis. A common room for students, which has a television set and Sky TV, is also available. A fridge, electric jug and a microwave are located in the common room for your use.

All full-time regional students are eligible to use the free medical clinic. Two doctors are available on-campus from 10-1pm on weekdays. At least one RA is trained to administer emergency first aid when necessary. The RAs also ensure that any student who needs urgent medical care after hours is taken to the hospital. USP Alafua’s Campus Life Officer is on call 24 hours. The security officers can also help in case of an emergency.

There is a gymnasium with weights and other fitness training equipment. The gymnasium is shared by the Campus staff and students. The gym is free of charge to residential students. The Samoan Fale provides a place for you to entertain visitors. It is often used for large social functions and student gatherings. Students also use this venue for prayer meetings. There is a minimum charge for use of the Fale.

The USPSA-AC hosts a welcome party for new students at the beginning of the year in February. This gives new students an opportunity to meet the Students Association Officers as well as continuing students. Other social activities organised by the Students Association include:

- Inter-university sports and
- USPSA-AC farewell functions at the end of each semester.

There are two student computer laboratories with 20 computers each. One lab is for face-to-face students and one for distance and flexible learning (DFL) students. Both computer labs are connected to the internet with printing facilities. New students are provided with USP email address which is used for all communication relating to your studies. Often general notices to all students are received through these USP email addresses. Basic computer skills sessions are run at the beginning of the academic year for those who need assistance.

Courses in how to use the different online learning management systems are also run at the beginning of each semester and it is important for all new users to attend so they can be introduced to the full range of features available.

The computer labs opening hours are from 8am - 10:00pm. In addition, you can use a suite of computers in the Student Administrative Services Front Office and the Library.

ITS Labs Opening Hours
Monday to Friday: 8am - 10pm
Week-Ends and Public Holidays: 12noon to 6pm
Wireless connection can also be established in most areas of the Campus.

All DFL courses have at least three satellite tutorials each semester. These take place in the audio tutorial room, near the large satellite dish. At these tutorials students from around the region can discuss with their course coordinator, issues and problems that come up during their reading and coursework. The timetable for the sessions are sent to all students email addresses and posted on the notice boards (SAS, IT Services and Library).

SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE AND FOOD TECHNOLOGY

As well as the usual science laboratories in which agriculture students learn more about crop, animal and soil sciences, through practical work and experiments, there are also three specialised laboratories on-campus. At the Agricultural Chemistry Nutrient Analysis Laboratory: soil, water, plant and animal feed analyses are carried out for student and staff research and samples submitted by farmers for fertiliser calculations / recommendations, advanced soil science teaching and research takes place. At the Tissue Culture Unit, the main focus of research has been the development of leaf blight resistant strains of taro and the development of appropriate media for the production of other crops. The unit also stores duplicates of the plant genetic materials from around the region in cooperation with the Secretariat of the Pacific Community (SPC). The Alafua Forensic Drug Testing Centre was opened in 2005 to test suspected drug samples for the Police, Customs and similar organisations.

Alafua Campus has two farms associated with its agriculture teaching and research programmes: 30.8 hectares at Alafua and 10.8 hectares at Moamoa. As well as commercial production, the farms are used for teaching and research in pasture agronomy, farming systems with crop and livestock components, fodder production, and other aspects of crop science.

OTHER PROGRAMMES AT ALAFUA CAMPUS

COLLEGE OF FOUNDATION STUDIES (CFS)

The CFS at Alafua Campus aims to develop personal qualities and ensure that students are well prepared for further tertiary studies. The section coordinates preliminary and foundation courses. Support staff are also available to assist students taking the Pre-degree English language courses, LLP13, LLP14, LLF11, LLF14 and LLF21. In liaison with Student Administrative Services, CFS staff are able to assist pre-degree students in courses other than language subjects and contact the CFS staff based at the Laucala Campus if further assistance is required.

Local tutors are provided by the College and students can seek their support for their respective subject areas.
The Emalus Campus is situated in the Tassiriki area on the outskirts of Port Vila. The campus overlooks the attractive Emten Lagoon, often referred to as Second Lagoon. The word Emalus, in Erakor village language, means the place that gets a lot of rain.

Much is happening at Emalus campus and Vanuatu in general as highlighted below:

- Emalus oversees the delivery of distance and flexible learning (DFL) beginning with pre-degree preliminary and foundation programs. There are more than 1,500 students who are studying USP preliminary and foundation courses, and first year degree courses, in both arts and sciences.

- The campus hosts the university’s School of Law, which runs undergraduate and postgraduate courses leading to the LLB and LLM degrees. The School delivers its courses both face-to-face and by distance and flexible learning. There are about 280 law students who are studying law face to face.

- The Pacific Languages Unit which offers language courses, mainly by distance and flexible learning is located on campus.

- The regional Pacific Islands Legal Information Institute (PacLII) is located in Emalus.

- The campus continues to expand with the addition in 2013 of the new Francophone Wing; made possible through bilateral assistance from the People’s Republic of China to Vanuatu. There are plans to commence programmes in undergraduate degrees in French, beginning with Foundation and Education.

- In 2016 there will be an increase in campus offering of courses in the sciences.

- There are plans to offer more courses by flexi schools and other delivery modes.

- The campus will grow research and postgraduate studies including the Master of Business Administration (MBA).

- Student numbers in Vanuatu continue to grow. In 2011 by headcount it was 2,726; in 2012 it was 2,866; in 2013 it is about 3,100.

The campus operates Halls of Residence for students and staff. There are 12 married quarters for students and 6 staff houses.

Student halls can accommodate 138. Conduct in the Halls of Residence is covered in the USP Residential Regulations as set out in the University Discipline Ordinance and Regulations for Students, and Regulations Governing Student Conduct.

Students should read this booklet carefully because accepting a place in a Hall of Residence means you agree to abide by the rules and conventions governing residence at USP.

Usually, a refundable deposit is required and you will need to provide your own cutlery, crockery and linen. If you rent an unfurnished place, USP is not able to supply furniture. If you decide to live on-campus, it is important to note that once you have paid the full semester fees, it is not possible to move off-campus until the end of that semester.

Taking pride in your campus requires that you take part in keeping it clean. There are rubbish bins around the campus. These are regularly.
Taking pride in your campus requires that you take part in keeping it clean. There are rubbish bins around the campus. These are regularly emptied so please do not litter, write graffiti or harm trees, shrubs or flowers. All vehicles must be parked in designated parking areas and not on the lawn.

Catering service facilities include a Student Dining Hall and campus canteen and staff-student barbecue and laiaplap/lovo area. The Dining Hall and the canteen cater for a variety of tastes, including island and Indian food, vegetarian meals, as well as Western menus. There are also many cafes, restaurants and supermarkets located close by in Port Vila.

There is no delivery of mail to commercial or residential addresses in Vanuatu; all mail is delivered to a Post Office box. While you can get your own Post Office box in Vila, you can also have mail sent to you directly at Emalus Campus. You should try to have all your mail prefixed with Student Mail as well as your name.

The address is:
Emalus Campus
The University of the South Pacific
PMB 9072
Port Vila, Vanuatu.

In addition to standard mail, all students are provided with a USP email account. The standard email address for a student is your student number, followed by @student.usp.ac.fj. Card phones are available in the Bookshop on the upper campus (678) 25585, in the canteen, in the Halls of Residence (678) 27867 and at the Guest House (678) 23439.

Except for the staff houses, the consumption of alcohol without the prior authorisation of the Campus Director is prohibited anywhere on-campus under current University Regulations.

Vanuatu’s official currency is the vatu (abbreviated VT). There are 200, 500, 1000, 5000 and 10,000 vatu notes, and 5, 10, 20, 50 and 100 vatu coins. Foreign exchange rates can be obtained from any of the banks and other money exchange outlets in town or online at www.xe.com/ucc.

A number of major banks operate in Vanuatu, including Westpac, ANZ, BRED Bank and the National Bank of Vanuatu. USP operates its accounts with Westpac and the National Bank of Vanuatu for students paying their fees in the outer islands. There are no restrictions on importing or exporting money or on changing money in Vanuatu. Supermarkets and many stores will accept personal cheques. There is no income tax in Vanuatu. However, Value Added Tax (VAT) and a number of other indirect taxes mean that the prices of goods (especially imported goods) in stores are considerably higher than in, say, Australia, Fiji or New Zealand.

Port Vila is a relatively healthy place. The water is perfectly safe to drink, although it contains quite a bit of calcium. Cuts and scratches should be treated immediately with antibiotic ointment and covered with a bandage. There is a small clinic on-campus managed by a Matron who is a qualified nurse who can refer you to the University doctor if necessary. The clinic opens part of each working day. The clinic provides medical care for students who belong to the Emalus Campus Students Association and who have paid the Health Service Fee. There are a number of private doctors, dentists, a physiotherapist as well as three pharmacies. The outpatients department of Vila Central Hospital (10 minutes’ walk from the campus) opens from 7:30am to 11:30am for general consultations. In the afternoons and evenings the hospital is open only for referrals or emergency cases. Doctors are on-call to deal with emergencies.
There are hundreds of buses in Port Vila. These are small 12- or 15-seater mini-buses, distinguished by the red letter B on the number plate. Buses have no fixed routes, and will take you wherever you want to go, though not always by the most direct route. Bus fares currently are 150vatu anywhere in the city limits. There are also many taxis, which are more expensive than buses.

Port Vila is a fairly safe town to live in. There are the usual problems associated with urban life, such as occasional petty theft, but these are minor. It is usually safe to walk the streets at night but you are requested to increase your personal safety by always going with someone you know.

The campus sports area has a football/rugby field, a basketball court and a netball court. Sports played in Port Vila include soccer, rugby, netball, volleyball, cricket, tennis, squash, boxing, table tennis and golf. USP fields teams in some of these sports during the town competitions.

STUDENT GRIEVANCES

The University is committed to the provision of an equitable and enriching environment for students, which fosters academic achievement and where the interactions amongst students and staff are based on mutual respect, fairness and fulfillment of obligations. However, the University recognizes that, on some occasions, students may wish to raise grievances about academic or administrative decisions, issues, or facilities at the University.

The University follows transparent, fair and timely procedures for addressing grievances in accordance with principles of procedural fairness, ensuring that all parties are treated equally and fairly, and that ensures students will not suffer any discrimination as a result of raising grievances in good faith.

It is important that students carefully read and strictly follow the Senate approved Student Grievance Policy & Procedures (available from: http://www.policies.usp.ac.fj/index.php?docid=5411). In particular, except where specified in the Procedures, students cannot register a grievance directly with senior management, including the Vice-Chancellor. Further advice can be obtained by email at: student_grievance@usp.ac.fj.
