JOURNAL OF SOUTH PACIFIC LAW

Vol. 2015, No. 1

SPECIAL ISSUE:

HUMAN RIGHTS AND CLIMATE CHANGE LAW
TABLE OF CONTENTS

EDITORIAL INTRODUCTION
Margaretha Wewerinke and Fitilagi Fa’anunu / Human Rights and Climate Change Law: Added Value to Pacific Island States / E-1

ARTICLES
Curtis Doebbler / Ensuring Consistency with Existing International Law of Another Climate Change Agreement / A-1

Calvy Aonima and Shivanal Kumar / Could Vanuatu Claim Reparations under International Law for Damages Sustained From Cyclone Pam? / A-23

Fitilagi Fa’anunu / A Breach of Fundamental Human Rights as the Legal Basis for Reparations for Climate Change Damages and Injuries under International Law: Case Study of Ha’apai Islands (Tonga) Following Cyclone Ian / A-41

COMMENT
Flavia Bustreo / Health and Our Shared Responsibility to Deal with Climate Change: a WHO Perspective / C-1
ABOUT THE JOURNAL

The Journal of South Pacific Law (JSPL) is published by the University of the South Pacific School of Law. We publish materials and analysis that deal with any aspect of law in, or of special relevance to, the Pacific Islands region. All articles appearing in the journal are refereed by scholars with extensive background in the region and its diverse legal systems.

EDITORIAL BOARD

Professor Donald Paterson (Acting General Editor)
Dr. Margaretha Wewerinke
Dr. Darryn Jensen
Dr. Pierre-Jean Bordahandy

EDITORS OF THE SPECIAL ISSUE

Dr. Margaretha Wewerinke
Ms. Fitilagi Fa’anunu

ADVISORY BOARD

Professor Sue Farran (University of St Andrews, UK)
Professor Jennifer Corrin (University of Queensland, Australia)
Professor Peter Macfarlane (University of South Australia, Australia)
Professor Tony Angelo (Victoria University of Wellington, New Zealand)
Professor Roger Clarke (Rutgers University, USA)
Professor Lawrence Boulle (Australian Catholic University, Australia)
GUIDELINES FOR AUTHORS

The journal requires the submission of manuscripts by email attachment. Please include your full contact details when submitting your manuscript. Manuscripts should be written in standard English and sent to the Acting General Editor. For the exact submission guidelines, please visit: www.usp.ac.fj/index.php?id=13024.

OPEN ACCESS

The Journal of South Pacific Law is an open access peer-reviewed journal. It is available online to the reader without financial or legal barriers.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Acting General Editor
Journal of South Pacific Law
University of the South Pacific School of Law
PMB 9072, Port Vila
VANUATU
Email: donald.paterson@vanuatu.usp.ac.fj

Website: www.usp.ac.fj/index.php?id=13024.

This journal may be cited as JSPL.