

Academic Approval Framework

Note: All University regulations are approved by Senate. Senate has delegated authority for some decisions within specific regulations as indicated in the flow chart above. For other regulations, no staff in the University has the authority to waive the regulations, or any part thereof. Examples include the waiver of the compulsory University-wide courses, the 75% progression rule, and registration in a course overload. Students should assume that any Senate regulation other than those listed in this Academic Advisory Framework (or where delegated authority is specified in a given regulation in the current H&C) cannot be waived.
